

The Bengal Bite® is Custom Fit for your Athlete

Bengal Bite® is a revolutionary mouthpiece developed by Dr. Jeffrey R. DeMartino for both professional and amateur athletes to prevent serious sport injuries. Each mouth piece is individually created for a comfortable and effective custom fit. The Bengal Bite® is designed to support the teeth and protect the gums, and individually molded to casts of your teeth, so they fit you and you alone. The tight, but flexible fit means they don't move, and you don't restrict your breathing. The Bengal Bite® is supplied with indentations for your lower teeth too, so that in the event of an impact to your lower jaw, it is held in place; results show that a custom-made mouth guard can prevent damage to the jaw, neck, and the brain - helping prevent concussion and reverberation damage caused by a serious blow to the head or jaw during competition.

The Bengal Bite® mouthpiece was designed to better protect professional athletes, and has become the mouthpiece of choice for amateur athletes seeking the same level of protection.
